Policy Analysis and Advice

Inter-American Development Bank

- Impacts and Consequences of Regional Autonomies in Bolivia, 2009-2010 – I compiled a database of municipal characteristics, identified the determinants of success in the provision of municipal public services and policies aimed at spurring economic growth, and identified deficiencies in the realms of fiscal policy, institutions and governance resulting from Bolivia's decentralization reform. This paper, and a series of public presentations I did based on it, had a powerful effect on the public debate, leading to significant improvements in the final version of Bolivia's Framework Law of Decentralization and Autonomies.

World Bank

- Citizen Engagement MOOC, from 2015 onwards. Co-wrote MOOC with a team of academics, analysts and Bank specialists, in which I also "star", available on EdX. Pitched as a social science course exploring citizen engagement and the role citizens can play in actively shaping public policy, especially in developing countries. Course achieved 26,000+ students from 190+ countries in its first two years.
- Poverty and Social Impact Assessment for the Ethiopia Promotion of Basic Services Project, 2013. Built original database and supervised team analyzing health and education service inequalities across regions and ethnicities in Ethiopia. Recommended policy remedies.
- Decentralization of Health and Education Service Delivery in South Asia, 2010-2012 – Principal researcher on multicountry team investigating impacts of decentralization of health and education on technical efficiency, allocative efficiency and equity in six South Asian countries.
- Civic Engagement and Local Government Reform in Rural Russia: A Dynamic Randomized Evaluation, 2006-10 – Senior researcher in a study of the outcomes of decentralization and the determinants of good governance in 3 Russian provinces. Funded by World Bank Research Committee (US$ 480,000).
- Bangladesh Urban Poverty and the Millennium Development Goals, 2006 – advised World Bank and Bangladeshi government operationalize MDGs in light of heavy rural-urban migration.
- Ethiopia Decentralized Service Delivery Study, 2006 – provide technical (economic and econometric) analysis to measure the effects of decentralization on subnational investment, expenditure, and service delivery in education, health, and water and sanitation.
- Maldives Integrated Human Development Project, 2003-04 & 2008 – helped design project to concentrate Maldives' dispersed population on a few "focus islands" in order to strengthen education, health and IT services, broaden and deepen markets, spur private sector development, and spur growth.
- Poverty Alleviation Fund and Decentralization in Nepal, 5/02-10/02 – analyzed institutional constraints to poverty alleviation in Nepal; helped design Poverty Alleviation Fund.
- Social Funds and Decentralization, 7/00-8/01 – wrote operational manual for World Bank staff on how to implement Social Funds in a decentralized context.
- Social Fund Projects: An Evaluation, 10/99-3/00 – designed institutional component of World Bank study of the effectiveness and cost-efficiency of social funds in 51 countries.
- Social Capital in Bolivia, Indonesia and Burkina Faso, 5/98-7/00 – contributed to World Bank study of social organization patterns and local government effectiveness.

- Romania Social Development Fund, 1/98 – completed financial projections, reviewed sub-project assessment criteria, and helped design Fund.

University of Fribourg, Institute of Federalism

- Practitioner's Course on Decentralisation and Local Governance, 2013-present. Lecturer and module leader to mid-career Swiss Development Corporation and LDC ministerial staff.

United Nations System Staff College

- Decentralized Governance and Conflict Prevention & Peacebuilding, 2010-present. Design and teach module on “Fiscal Decentralization and Accountability” for recurring high-level course for UN field staff.

UNDP

- Mexico 2004 Human Development Report: “The Challenge of Local Development”. Wrote a paper comparing decentralization and local development in Bolivia and Colombia, and presented it at an international seminar hosted by the UNDP Mexico reviewing the substance of the 2004 report.

DFID

- Designed and taught decentralization module for “Developments in Development” course for mid-level DFID and private sector professionals.

LSE Executive Education

- Designed and taught full-day modules on “Privatization” and “Fighting Corruption Through Political Accountability” for a bespoke course on Modern Politics for senior Kazakh government officials.
